Rev. Richard Levy to speak at all three Sunday Services

July 29, 2007

Rev. Richard Levy knows that his primary goal as a minister and teacher is to bring into clear focus the Truth as taught through Unity Principles and other great universal teachings. His passion-filled, dynamic teaching style gives people the opportunity to own the Truth for themselves, making it a part of their everyday lives. Richard has been married to Maureen, his beloved partner and best friend, for 34 years. Rev. Richard was the beloved minister at Windward Unity here in Hawaii before becoming the Senior Minister at Seattle Unity in 2003. He is well grounded in Metaphysical bible interpretation, but his teachings are not limited by them. During Sunday services and classes, he draws from A Course In Miracles, Ancient Buddhist texts, Hindu scriptures, and the everyday Zen of living life breath by breath.

Bishop John Shelby Spong Workshop: Jesus for the Non-Religious

Saturday, August 11, 10:00 am – 12:50 pm

John Shelby Spong, a longtime champion of progressive Christianity, is a visionary voice in the religious community, calling people to step beyond boundaries of tribe, prejudice, gender and even religion to create a new humanity. His latest book, Jesus for the Non-Religious, expands his vision for a radically reformed Christianity, peeling away dogma to reveal the essence of Jesus. Bishop Spong's lifelong quest to rescue the church from irrelevancy has led admirers to hail him as champion of inclusive faith, and detractors to vilify him as a heretic. It is not a desire to destroy faith, however, that drives Bishop Spong, but rather the longing of a "God-intoxicated" mystic to enter the mystery that is Jesus Christ. He was the Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Newark for 24 years before his retirement in 2001 to lecture around the world; his books have sold more than a million copies. This workshop, held in the chapel, is based on Jesus for the Non-Religious. Fee $25.

Firewalk

Saturday, August 18, 5:00 – 10:00 pm

Firewalks have been used throughout history and in every culture by shamans and medicine men as a tool of ritual purification, healing and worship. Today, according to Quantum Success Group's Vincent Kellsey, the firewalk is just a metaphor for things you face in life. Moreover, it is a powerful tool for transformation to overcome any obstacle and tame any fear, to listen to yourself and empower your dream, to banish limiting beliefs and move forward with confidence, to lift up your spirit and experience unlimited possibilities. Unity's firewalk is open for up to 50 adult participants and will be held at Olomana Gardens. Vincent, a life coach for 10 years, has been conducting firewalks in Hawaii for the past year for corporations and individuals. Fee $99.
